North Flight To Provide County Ambulance Service

By Irene Pettyjohn

North Flight, Inc., of Traverse City, will begin providing ambulance service to Crawford County on May 1. An interim agreement between county commissioners and North Flight was reached at the board's regular meeting on March 27. A five-year contract will be signed as soon as North Flight produces a final draft of the agreement.

Commission Chairman Robert McLachlan said he was satisfied with North Flight's service proposal and believes it will provide pre-hospital needs for county residents at an affordable cost to both residents and county government.

The following are some of the provisions North Flight has agreed to in the draft proposal:

—North Flight will provide a basic life support system at start-up to be upgraded to a limited-advanced life support system utilizing North Flight's paramedical staff at the earliest possible date following state of Michigan licensing.

—If financially and logistically feasible, an advanced life support system will be implemented within one year of start-up. A feasibility study is to be presented to the county in October, 1991.

—North Flight will be hiring three Emergency Medical Technicians (EMT) specialists and will give consideration to current Crawford County Ambulance Corps employees.

—A board of directors is to be established to formulate policy for ambulance and Mobile Intensive Care Unit (MICU) services and will include representation from North Flight, Grayling Mercy Hospital and the Grayling community.

—North Flight will support the Crawford County Medical Control

Authority and provide quality assurance and continuing education for EMTs.

—North Flight will explore feasibility of an ambulance subscription program for county residents.

—North Flight agreed to have one ambulance available for primary service and coverage at all times.

—Upon termination of ambulance services by North Flight, all leased vehicles shall be transferred to the county.

Crawford County and Mercy Hospital obligations in the agreement include the following:

—Crawford County and/or Mercy Hospital is to provide office space, living quarters, and garage facilities for the ambulance and MICU staff.

—Grayling Mercy Hospital is to continue to provide on-line medical control for pre-hospital transfers.

—Crawford County is to provide

North Flight ambulances fuel and vehicle insurance at government cost.

—The county is to continue to provide ambulance dispatch services.

—Crawford County will lease the existing ambulance to North Flight for $1 per year and in the second year of operation it is to purchase a new ambulance unit for North Flight and lease it for $1 per year for the life of the five-year contract.

—Crawford County and Grayling Mercy Hospital will donate existing ambulance supplies and equipment, including two defibrillator units to North Flight.

There are several options in North Flight's draft proposal that still need to be negotiated between the county and the ambulance service. One example is the draft's 120-day termination clause which McLachlan requested be changed to one year. The draft also did not address anything about liability.

Mercy Hospital vice president of patient care services/operations, Noreen Davis, said she is concerned with the amount of contract detail yet to be worked out. She said during Wednesday's commissioners' meeting North Flight representatives talked about a subsidiary corporation of North Flight, Inc. that would be governed by a local board of directors, but she said no corporation has been formed at this time and only preliminary discussions held. She said the role of the board of directors is unclear as is the membership of that board and level of impact it will have on operational decisions.

"Mercy Hospital's main concern is that the residents of our community have an appropriate level of ambulance service available that includes pre-hospital and transfer services," she said, "and that these services are cost effective."

Davis said the costs included in North Flight's draft proposal involve incremental costs only and do not include total costs of operation. She said she was also concerned when McLachlan said the proposal was for emergency ambulance service only and did not include the North Flight's Mobile Intensive Care Unit based at Mercy Hospital.

The collection rate of hospital transfer bills is nearly 75 percent compared to North Flight's projected revenue loss of $95,497 (37 percent of total revenues) from uncollectible emergency ambulance service billings. Davis said transfer revenues from the MICU could help to offset losses from reduced Medicaid/Medicare reimbursements and bad debts.

Scott Bosch, president of North Flight said his company intends to bring the two ambulance services

County Helps Hanson Hills Go After $366,300 Grant

Crawford County Commissioners agreed to apply for $366,300 in DNR Quality of Life bonds for the Grayling Recreation Authority (GRA) at their Wednesday, March 27, board meeting. If the GRA grant is approved, the monies will be used to expand recreational opportunity at Hanson Hills.

Dan Wyers, recreation director, told commissioners about a recent meeting with Representative Ralph Ostling and DNR Rodney Stokes where he learned that grants submitted by the GRA would never be approved because it was considered a temporary entity.

Wyers said sponsorship by the county will change the structure of GRA enough to bring it into compliance with DNR regulations, making it eligible for Quality of Life funds.

Last year the DNR denied GRA's grant application for $297,150.

"Now that we have met all the DNR requirements and considering

Crawford County's population has grown the largest in the state of Michigan by percentage from 1980 to 1990, I think the DNR will look favorably on our application this year," said Wyers.

If approved, the grant dollars will be used to construct barrier-free doorways and rest room renovations, an outdoor skating rink, five shuffleboard courts, two tennis courts/basketball courts, one soccer field, two multi-purpose baseball/softball diamonds, and additional rest rooms in the cross-country ski lodge. It will also be used to purchase snowmaking equipment and a new snow groomer.

The DNR also said GRA's five-year lease with the Department of Military Affairs (DMA) is too short. For this reason, Wyers said the DMA has agreed to a 16-year lease which was signed by all parties late last week, contingent on approval of at least a $200,000 grant.

Wyers said this is the last year Quality of Life bonds will be available.

Commissioner Robert Smock said the parks and recreation meeting to discuss bringing all county recreation activities under one authority was poorly attended. Smock and Wyers will be attending the various township meetings to encourage more community involvement in examining the benefits of a county-wide recreation authority.

Wyers said these benefits would include avoiding duplicity of construction projects and activities and allow coordination of grant applications.

HAPPY EASTER!—More than 300 children gathered at Hanson Hills on Saturday, March 30, to participate in the First Annual Easter Egg Hunt, sponsored by the Grayling Recreation Authority in cooperation with the Crawford County Deputy Sheriff's Association. The weather was sunny and cold, but no one seemed to notice as children scampered everywhere looking for the brightly colored eggs.

Laws Give Rights To Victims Of Domestic Violence

By Barb Sands, Community Education Coordinator

"You have the right to remain silent . . ."

These are the words that most often come to mind when a person is asked if they are aware of their rights if they are even involved in a crime. Most people associate rights with the person being arrested; not many are aware that if they are the victim of a crime they also have rights.

The week of April 21st through 27th is designated as National Victims' Rights Week as well as National Volunteer Recognition Week. At River House Shelter, volunteers assist the staff every day in providing services for victims of domestic violence. Domestic violence includes crimes of assault, battery, homicide, weapon use, kidnapping, unlawful imprisonment, trespassing, rape and others. While domestic violence is all to frequently viewed as "private violence" by the general public, law enforcement, and the legal system, it is a criminal offense. Domestic violence victims are victims of crime and as such, they are entitled to specific rights under Michigan law as well as under the Crime Victims' Rights Act of 1985.

If you are the victim of a domestic assault, you should be aware of the specific laws regarding domestic violence and exercise your victims' rights under these laws by contacting your local police department immediately.

ARRESTS WITHOUT WARRANTS

In the State of Michigan, an officer responding to a domestic call may arrest the assailant under the authority of two statutes, MCL 764.15a or MCL 764.15b.

Statute MCL 764.15a (Arrest of spouse or former spouse without warrant) states that "A peace officer who has reasonable cause to believe that a violation of section 81 or 81a of Act No. 328 of the Public Acts of 1931, as amended, being sections 750.81 and 750.81a of the Michigan Compiled Laws, has taken place or is taking place and that the person who committed or is committing the violation is a spouse, former spouse, or a person residing or having resided in the same household as the victim, may arrest the violator without a warrant for that violation, irrespective of whether the violation was committed in the presence of the peace officer. (Amended by L.1980, Act 471, eff. 3/30/81)."

The following is the test of the above referenced:

750.81, Assault and assault and battery — Any person who shall be convicted of an assault or an assault and battery where no other punishment is prescribed shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

750.81a Assault and infliction of serious injury.

Sec. 81a. Any person who shall assault another without any weapon and inflict serious or aggravated injury upon the person of another without intending to commit the crime of murder, and without intending to inflict great bodily harm less than the crime of murder shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by imprisonment in the county jail or the state prison for a period of not more than one year, or a fine of $500.00 or both.

ALL ASSAULTS ARE CRIMES

Note that neither section makes a distinction between a domestic assault and an assault by any other person. Any assault is a crime and must be treated as such under the law.

The second statute, MCL 764.15b, (Arrest without a warrant by peace officer) states that "A peace officer, without a warrant, may arrest and take into custody a person when the peace officer has reasonable cause to believe that all of the following exist . . ."

This statute then continues with a list of different types of injunctions that may be in place. An injunction is a court order which may specifically restrain a person from entering the premises, assaulting, beating, molesting, or wounding a named person, or from removing minor children from the person having legal custody of the children. An injunction should state on its face the particular period of time for which the order is valid.

Under both MCL 764.15a and MCL 764.15b, the key is that the officer "May Arrest on probable cause." This means that the officer may arrest whether or not he/she actually witnessed the assault or whether or not he/she has actually seen a copy of a court injunction. However, if an injunction has been filed through a prosecuting attorney, it should be in the L.E.I.N. (Law Enforcement Information Network), which is generally accessible to the responding officer.

If you call for police assistance and an arrest is made, you also need to know that on March 28, 1991, 1990 PA 308 becomes effective. This new law "Precludes interim bond for a person arrested for domestic violence, unless a magistrate will not be available for arraignment within 24 hours of arrest. If a magistrate will not be available, the arrested person must be held for 20 hours before being eligible for release."

VICTIMS' RIGHTS

The Crime Victims' Rights Act provides various rights for victims, families of victims, and surviving relatives of victims of any crime. Since our mission at River House Shelter is to provide crisis intervention services for domestic violence victims, the focus in this section will be on victims' rights as they pertain to domestic violence victims.

If you call for police assistance in a domestic assault, The Crime Victims' Rights Act, or Public Act 222, 1985, provides you with additional rights. Public Act 222, 1985 states that "Peace Officers, after intervening in a domestic dispute, as described in MCL 764.15a or 764.15b, are required by law to give the victim the following notice:"

•The statewide toll-free domestic violence hotline number (1-800-333-SAFE).

•The local battered women's shelter (River House, 517/348-8972) and other local resources.

•Your rights as a victim of domestic violence, which are:

The right to ask the county prosecuting attorney to file a criminal complaint.

The right to go to court and file a petition requesting an injunctive order from domestic abuse which may include the following:

a. An order restraining or enjoining the abuser from entering onto premises.

b. An order restraining or enjoining the abuser from assaulting, beating, molesting, or wounding you.

c. An order restraining or enjoining the abuser from removing minor children from you, except as otherwise authorized by a custody or visitation order issued by a court of competent jurisdiction.

This information is available on a form which should be given to you by the law enforcement officer who responds to your call.

Additional rights you may be entitled to as a victim include rights concerning immediate needs, victim compensation, rights during prosecution, and post-sentencing rights.

If you are a victim of any crime, including domestic violence, or a

1991 Forest Fire Season Begins

The arrival of April signals the start of northern Michigan's forest fire season. May is historically the worst month for fires in Crawford County, but early warm temperatures have exposed grasses and shrubs on the forest floor, increasing the danger of forest fires.

DNR fireofficer Duane Brooks said recent rains have helped replenish the water table in the swamps, but he explained that rain during the day that freezes at night only speeds up the drying process.

"What we need are warm rains that will bring on the forest "green-up," he explained. Brooks said unless the weather gets hot and dry, it looks like a normal spring.

DNR budget cuts and streamline ef-orts are going to leave DNR firemen rosters in Crawford and Roscommon counties short-handed this year. Brooks said the department is planning to bring in additional staff from northern Michigan and the Upper Peninsula to help.

Due to a secretarial staff reduction at the Grayling Field Office, the office will be open from 8-10 a.m., Monday through Friday. Burning permits will be issued at this time only. The permits will be for one day and the burning must be done after 6 p.m. on the day issued.

Forest fires should be reported to the Crawford County Sheriff Dept. at 348-6341, or to the local fire dept. Do not call the Sheriff Dept. or fire dept. for burning permits because they are not able to issue them.

The DNR will not be issuing permits for firewood cutting on state land this year.

South Branch Accident Injures Three Persons

An accident at the corner of Leline and Pioneer roads in South Branch Township sent three persons to the hospital on Saturday, March 30.

The accident occurred at 5:44 p.m. when a vehicle driven by Michael Scribner, 18, of Mason, traveling southbound on Leline, went through the intersection of Pioneer Road and struck a vehicle driven by Owen Danner, 50, of Roscommon. Linda Danner, 45, was a passenger in her husband's vehicle. According to Sheriff deputies, a temporary stop sign at the intersection was knocked to the ground before the accident leading Scribner to believe he did not have to stop.

After the impact, the Danner vehicle went into the west ditch of Leline Road, where it turned onto its side on top of Mrs. Danner, who had been partially thrown from the vehicle. She suffered serious injuries and was transported by helicopter by North Flight ambulance service from Mercy Hospital to Munson Medical Center in Traverse City. As of Monday afternoon, Mrs. Danner was still in the intensive care unit at Munson, but her condition had been upgraded from critical to fair. The other injured persons were treated at Mercy Hospital and released.

Scribner was wearing his seat belt when the accident occurred, which Sheriff deputies believe reduced the seriousness of his injuries. Neither of the Danners were wearing their seat belts.

Alcohol was not a factor in the accident.

Fire Destroys Car Damages Garage

Fire destroyed a station wagon belonging to Mike and Janet Gorman as it sat in their garage at 1057 Old Dam Road.

The fire broke out at about 1:20 p.m. on Wednesday, March 27. Assistant fire chief Dean Goss said the cause of the vehicle fire is unknown. Between the fire and an explosion from something on the car, the car was completely destroyed. The garage, which is attached to the Gorman home, sustained some fire and smoke damage. Goss said some electrical wiring in the garage will have to be replaced.

The home also sustained some smoke damage. Janet was home when the fire started, but escaped injury.

Black Bear Visits Lovells Residence

A Lovells woman was surprised during Wednesday night's storm when a black bear wandered into her yard apparently looking for shelter. Her uninvited guest stayed for about five hours.

Conservation officer Bruce Patrick said it is not unusual for bear to show-up near homes at this time of year. He said in this case, it was probably frightened by the storm's intensity and was looking for shelter. Hail and high winds were reported in the Lovells area. Patrick said even though black bear are wild animals and should be treated as such, they are usually not dangerous unless provoked. Loud noises are usually enough to frighten them away. In this case, the Lovells woman finally scared the bear away by hitting two metal pans together.

Patrick estimated the bear to be medium in size, about 200 pounds. He said warm temperatures have brought out those bear who hibernated. Because it was a mild winter, he said there have been reports of bear sightings all winter.

Let's Talk About It

By Joe Murphy

Isn't it strange that we who live here in this land of beauty grow so used to it we are sometimes amazed when a stranger comments on it? We, who can within minutes be on the shore of a lake or the banks of a river or visit the Hartwick Pines, are some times amazed that people may drive for thousands of miles to see what we see every day. But isn't it the same with us when we travel to distant points to see sights that the natives there ignore? We may at times look at a picture and comment on its beauty then realize we have passed that same spot hundreds of times without really looking at it.

How many times do we look and fail to see? Can you right now close your eyes and describe the room where you are in minute detail? Some people who have been trained to observe may be able to do it but most of us could not even state the color of the walls. It is also strange that perhaps ten people can observe the same thing and you will receive at least five different versions of what they saw. I guess we should all be a little more observant but I doubt that we will. It will be through the eyes of a stranger that we will really see what we look at every day.

The difference of a trained observer was brought home to me many years ago. I was with Bob Johnson of the State Police post at Gaylord one day when Michigan still had front and rear license plates. It was a holiday weekend and traffic on old U.S. 27 was heavy. We were talking and Bob didn't really seem to be paying attention to oncoming traffic, I was really surprised when he made a quick turn around and stopped a car that had mismatched plates and turned out to be a stolen car. Even in heavy traffic Bob must have been checking license plates of oncoming cars both as they approached and in the rear view mirror after they passed. To say I was impressed would be putting it mildly.

It is very embarrassing to have a stranger ask where a street or business is located and even though we drive around Grayling every day, not be able to answer their question. We may be able to recall seeing it but not be able to say just where we saw it. Or when a business is sold and a new sign erected, we continue to refer to it by the old name for years after. I am not knocking anyone for such things as I am one of the worst at observing things in the county.

I can drive by a place for years and maybe it is torn down, then I can't remember what stood there.

Wants Welcome Home Parade For Troops

Dear Jon:

I agree with you and President Bush that we should have a big welcome home parade for the Crawford County troops of Operation Desert Storm on July 4th. Let's hope they're all home by then. Maybe, if they start looking now, the Grayling Youth Boosters will even be able to find a marching band for the 4th. Since there probably aren't enough convertibles in the area to carry 128 troops, maybe the Boosters can line up some flat-bed trailer rigs for them.

This note isn't very long, so I'll add a little for ex-Sgt. Morse. The following is a quote by John Stuart Mill, a 19th century English economist and philosopher:

"War is an ugly thing, but not the ugliest of things. The decayed and degraded state of moral and patriotic feeling which thinks that nothing is worth war is much worse. The person who has nothing for which he is willing to fight, nothing which is more important than his own personal safety, is a miserable creature and has no chance of being free unless made and kept so by the exertions of better men than himself."

Writer Says Pellet Guns Treated Same As Handguns

If you or anyone you know owns an air pellet gun, did you know that if you carry it in a vehicle for any reason, that it has to be treated the same as a handgun?

This is the same air pellet gun that can be purchased at many stores by anyone 14 years of age and up. Generally its on an open counter by the B.B. guns, not under lock and key. No permit! No registration! Many children have these pellet guns as with B.B. guns. Save them! If you or them get picked up it'll start an unneeded police record which is held against you for the rest of your life.

If you did not know this law, please send me your name and address so that I can pass this information on to the Congressmen, Senators, Governor, or anyone that will make it necessary to inform the public of the laws or statutes which govern the air pellet guns so that some unknowing person doesn't end up in problems with the law. Your consideration and cooperation in helping with this matter will be greatly and deeply appreciated.

Your Social Security

Are You Eligible For SSI?

In some way, at some point in life, everybody needs help. For more than four million people, that help comes in the form of monthly Supplemental Security Income (SSI) benefits. If you have limited income and resources, and are age 65 or older, or blind, or have a disability, or if you know someone who is, SSI can help.

SSI is a Federal program, administered by the Social Security Administration. It pays monthly checks to people with low income and only a few assets, who are aged, blind, or disabled, including children. For children under 18, the parent's income and resources are considered.

The amount of SSI payment varies depending on a person's living arrangement, and any other countable income he or she has.

People can still have some resources, or assets, and still qualify for SSI. For example, they can own their own home; a car; personal and household goods; and life insurance or burial funds. In addition an individual may have up to $2000 in liquid, or negotiable assets. A married couple may have up to $3000 in liquid assets.

In Michigan, people who receive SSI payments also qualify for Medicaid to help with medical expenses.

The rules about SSI's income and resource limits are very complex. So it's important that anyone who believes he or she may be eligible, or has a child who may be eligible, contact Social Security right away to discuss applying for benefits. Payments cannot be made for any time before an application is filed.

Social Security's toll-free phone service is available from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m., weekdays. Call 1-800-234-5772 (234-SSSA). The Traverse City office, at 1111 E. Front St., is open weekdays, 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

A representative is at the County Building in Grayling on the first and third Tuesday of each month, from 10:30 until 2 p.m. There is no phone service at this location.

Michigan has lots of company

MICHIGAN DOES NOT stand alone in its battle to reduce state budget deficits.

In state after state, governors face much the same dilemma as that confronting Michigan's Gov. John Engler in how to make state services fit within state income.

In 49 of the 50 states, law requires state government to live within its income. The federal government, of course, has the luxury of running on empty, which it has done for several years. But most states require a balanced budget.

Bookkeeping magic keeps some state afloat. But tighter belts are more in style. California is more than $4 billion short; Virginia cut $1 billion, with another half-billion cut pending. Even Maine, with only a $1.6 billion total budget, must cut over $100 million.

Obviously, nobody's happy.

RHODE ISLAND GOV. Bruce Sundlun tried another approach. He closed the government on a recent Friday, and promised to do it again nine more times before his fiscal year ends.

Vital services were maintained—such as police and hospitals and prisons. But offices closed. Courts were vacant. The legislature was idle.

Howls arose, of course. But Gov. Sundlun pointed out the furlough day was just like the third day of a three-day holiday weekend — except the employees didn't get paid.

Personally, I thought it sounded like a good idea. If you haven't got the money, send the people home. It's better than issuing rubber checks in the pay envelope.

CUTTING SERVICES, firing employees, trimming paychecks is not a fun business for any government leader to undertake, but there's a lot of it going around these days.

Some very basic truisms are involved in the process:

—You cannot cut spending by continuing to do the same things in the same ways. Changes must be made.

—You cannot cut government spending without reducing programs and services in some way.

—You cannot cut government spending without reducing payroll levels in one way or another . . . discharge, reductions, attrition, or some other way.

The process involves a series of choices. One is reducing spending. The only other choice is to raise revenue, and that means more taxes.

If anyone can come up with any other alternatives, there is a place for him/her in the civics hall of fame. Kindly step forward.

POINT TO PONDER — America's fantastic performance in the Persian Gulf crisis is generally credited to President Bush, Gens. Colin Powell and Norman Schwarzkopf, and to Dick Cheney, secretary of defense.

It's interesting to recall that Mr. Cheney was not Mr. Bush's first choice to lead the defense department. Mr. Cheney was pressed into service and left his influential seat in Congress only after Mr. Bush's first choice, former Sen. John Tower, was turned down as secretary of defense.

It's also interesting to ponder whether things would have been any different in the Persian Gulf situation, and America's performance there, if Mr. Tower rather than Mr. Cheney had been calling signals from the Pentagon.

Dick Cheney likely will go down in history as a superb secretary of defense. How would Mr. Tower have fared?

Obviously, fate was on America's side.

County Receives Housing Award

Crawford County has received an award from the Michigan State Housing Development Authority (MSHDA) for its efforts in carrying out housing rehabilitation programs. The 1991 Community Development award was given for exceptional performance in the Michigan Small Cities Community Development Block (CDBG) program, administered by MSHDA.

The Michigan Small Cities CDBG program provides grants for cities, villages, and townships with a population of less than 50,000 and counties with a population of less than 200,000 and do not receive CDBG funds directly from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). Since 1982 MSHDA has awarded more than $67 million in federal grant funds to 185 localities, helping thousands of Michigan residents improve and upgrade their homes and neighborhoods.

Most projects have primarily benefited low and moderate income persons through single-family owner-occupied rehabilitation, but other projects such as water and/or sewer lines, street repairs, rental rehabilitation, home repair services, demolition or substandard structures also have been funded.

Small Cities supplement the CDBG grants with funds from the federal Rural Rental Rehabilitation Program, MSHDA's Community Home Improvement Program, the Farmers Home Administration and other public and private funds.

Since 1983 Crawford County has received $765,000 in CDBG funds. Another $275,000 from other sources has also been used to assist 119 households. In addition the county has been active, since 1988, in the Rural Rental Rehabilitation Program using $130,000 in federal funds to assist 29 rental units. These funds are a match to investment by landlords.

CDBG AWARD—Jeannine Eggert, director of the Housing Commission, and Gary Johnson, housing specialist, are shown accepting the 1991 Community Development award for exceptional performance in the Michigan Small Cities Community Development Block program. Presenting the award from the Michigan State Housing Development Authority is Anita A. Myers (center), property specialist, Community Development - Small Cities.

Nunn Joins Principals For National Hotline

Pat Nunn, principal of Frederic Elementary School, is one of the 70 educators who will be offering advice to parents during a national phone-in event on April 7 and 8, during the convention of the National Association of Elementary School Principals (NAESP). Nunn will answer education questions on the toll-free "Dial-A-Principal" Hotline.

The Hotline, a public service inaugurated last year during NAESP's annual convention, was created to spark interest among parents and the general public in American elementary and middle school education.

Got a question? About homework? School-readiness? Discipline? Curriculum? Summer School? Report Cards? Or about what you can do at home to help your child in school? Call 1-800-876-5606 from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. (Pacific Time) on Sunday, April 7, and Monday, April 8. A platoon of principals will be waiting to offer sound advice and counsel.

Lovells Extension To Hear Hints On Composting

The Lovells Extension will meet on Wednesday, April 10, at the Township Hall. The hostess is Carol Ralph. Besides the regular business meeting, there will be a silent auction and election of officers. Members are also asked to bring the articles for the River House Shelter. The guest speaker will be Roy Spangler, the Crawford County Extension agent who promises to give the group some surprising hints on composting.

The March meeting was held at the charming home of hostess Helen Proulx. The group's guest speaker was Rita Jackson. Members brought craft ideas from recycled materials. They were both clever and practical.

The annual district meeting will be held in Gaylord at the First Methodist Church on Thursday, April 18th. Members who wish to attend should confirm with Marge Harwood.

AmVets To Meet April 9th

The next AmVets Post 90 and Auxiliary meeting will be April 9, 7 p.m., at the American Legion Hall. Visitors are welcome.

REFINANCE AT OLD KENT.

If you're paying 10% or more in mortgage interest, you should see us about refinancing at today's low rates. You could save thousands of dollars over the term of your mortgage — and lower your monthly house payments, too.

Get a Home Equity Line of Credit at No Additional Charge.

When you refinance, you may also qualify for our Home Equity Line of Credit — with no additional fees. So you can borrow for the things you need, like home improvements or a new car, at an interest rate that's much lower than most installment loans or credit cards. And the interest may be tax-deductible, too.

Check into Refinancing — with The Refinancing Checklist.

We can tell you how much you may be able to save by refinancing. All we need is some basic information about your current mortgage. The following checklist tells you what we need to know. Bring the information into any Old Kent office — and we'll determine how much you may save by refinancing at our rates.

There's no charge for this service. So why not do it today? After all, you have nothing to lose — and a lot to gain.

Latusek Receives National Award From Right To Bear Arms Group

The Citizens Committee for the Right to Keep and Bear Arms has announced that Donald Latusek, of Grayling, has been selected to receive a Citizen of the Year award.

Latusek has been selected to receive this award because of a dedication to the efforts to preserve the right of the people to keep and bear arms as guaranteed by the Second Amendment to the United States Constitution according to Committee officials.

"If it weren't for people like Donald Latusek, our Constitutional rights would have been eroded years ago," stated Alan Gottlieb, Chairman of the Citizens Committee.

Criteria for selection of the Citizen of the Year Award is based upon the activities of individual members, such as being active in local, state, and national gun rights issues, by writing editors of newspapers, contacting elected officials or appearing for public testimony.

The Citizens Committee for the Right to Keep and Bear Arms is a national organization with nearly 500,000 members, as well as more than 130 members of Congress serving on their National Advisory Council.

budget which is almost gone. Commissioner Dennis Long said training funded by state of Michigan 302 funds which are earmarked specifically for training will be addressed on an individual basis. Long said training for law enforcement officers is important, but so is ensuring public safety by providing adequate manpower for county road patrol.

The commission turned down a request for Sheriff deputies to attend precision driving training at the Kirtland Community College in April because it would require additional overtime to cover the shifts of the officers attending the school.

ANIMAL SHELTER

Assistant animal control officer Dixie Lobsinger asked commissioners to allow the Crawford County Animal Shelter to increase its adoption fees for puppies and kittens from $5 to $15. The additional $10 will be returned to the person adopting the pet if they have it spayed or neutered within a specified period of time. Lobsinger said similar programs downstate have $40 adoption fees with $25 certificates given.

The cost of dropping off puppies and kittens will go from $5 to $15 with a $10 certificate given if the owner of the "mother" has it spayed. Owners of stray animals will also be charged an additional $10 to get their animals back and be given a certificate. Drop off of adult dogs and cats (over six months) will remain the same $5 if licensed and $25 if not.

Lobsinger told commissioners that the state is going to try to mandate that all shelters institute some type of pet population control program.

GOVERNOR TO VISIT

Sheriff Harold Hatfield told commissioners Governor John Engler will be in Grayling on May 28 to attend the Grayling Middle School fifth grade Drug Abuse Resistance Education together as soon as operations begin. According to North Flight's projected revenue and expenditures (as printed in its draft proposal), it anticipates a $14,902 revenue loss during its first 12 months of operations.

Davis said, historically, North Flight, Inc. has provided good services in counties where they provide ambulance services and that it can work in Crawford County as long as everyone keeps the needs of the community in mind and these needs are addressed.

McLachlan said last Wednesday's agreement will allow North Flight to hire their staff, apply for the necessary state licenses and begin setting up the Grayling operation. He said signature of a contract will take place at the earliest possible time.

The commissioners also voted to extend the lay-off date for Crawford County Ambulance Corps personnel until May 1. Lay-off notices were mailed two weeks ago appraising them that the county operated service would cease operations on April 13.

1991 County Fair Dedicated To Military Men and Women

At the March meeting of the Crawford County Fair Board, the decision was made to dedicate the 1991 Crawford County Fair to the men and women who served in Operations Desert Shield and Desert Storm. At last count, at least 140 men and women from Crawford County have been deployed to the Persian Gulf area. A list of these people will be included in the 1991 Crawford County Fair premium book.

The fair board would like to remind the exhibitors of the recent Science Fair that your exhibits are also eligible to be entered in the county fair. Cash premiums will be given to the top three exhibits in each area. Cash premiums are being increased this year in many of the sections.

Plans for this year's fair are moving ahead at a smooth pace. The board has been lining up exhibits and activities to keep the whole four days fun and eventful.

Premium book ad sales are under way with sales people covering all areas of the county. The sales of these ads are important as this is one of the fair association's main fundraisers. This year, the premium book will be on the streets by the middle of May, and will be distributed throughout Crawford County and the surrounding areas. The ad prices are: 1/4 page - $40, 1/2 page - $75, and full page - $125. If you would like to be included in this year's premium book advertising, and haven't been contacted, send a check with a letter stating what size ad you would like to Crawford County Fair Advertising, PO Box 777, Grayling, MI 49738, or call Todd Pfaff at 348-1232 after 5 pm.

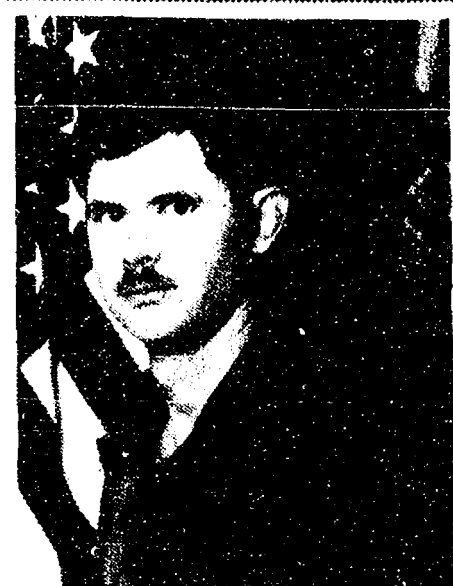

In other news, with the onset of spring, work will be soon beginning on the soccer fields. Signature Landscaping of Grayling has been contracted to handle the landscaping work which includes ground preparation, irrigation and seeding. The fields are targeted to be ready for the 1991 soccer season this fall.

Other work projects to begin soon include surface preparation, berm preparation, and construction of bleachers in the racetrack area, finishing the pavilion and construction of a stage, and general grounds upkeep and improvements.

If you have an exhibit, activity, or concession that you would like to include in the 1991 Crawford County Fair, call John Naour at 348-6481, or write Crawford County Fair Association, PO Box 777, Grayling, MI 49738.

Mercy Memo

By Mary Jo Conway, Community Relations Manager

If you feel guilty buying disposable products, try to water your lawn only when it really needs it, or make an effort to recycle household trash, you're not alone. In the past two decades, Americans have grown increasingly aware of the need to conserve our natural resources. We've learned that our land, air, water, and the creatures we share the earth with cannot be exploited endlessly, but must be protected.

Another treasure worth preserving is a man-made one — our health care system. We still have the best health care in the world, but we've discovered that it, too, has limits. Health care is such a precious resource that we can no longer waste it but must conserve it.

Like our national parks, our health care system is at risk in part because we are loving it to death. Encouraged by insurance coverage that paid for all the care we wanted, we've freely used costly procedures and services when less expensive alternatives were available. But just as we're learning to use our natural resources wisely, so we must learn to make wise use of our health care resources.

It's in our best interests to do so. Those who pay our health care bills — for most of us, employers, government, and private insurers — are sending a clear signal: consumers will increasingly share the cost of the care they use. More than one-quarter of employers in one survey said they planned to ask workers to pay more toward their health care by 1991.

But much more than money is at stake. If we could wave a magic wand and eliminate all preventable illness and injury, we could save the lives of 1.3 million Americans who die prematurely every year, and gain millions of years of life, happiness, and productivity.

Here are some ways you can help keep our health care system strong by using it more carefully:

- Use the hospital emergency department only for true emergencies.
- Give your health care provider all the relevant information about your illness or injury to help avoid unnecessary tests and treatment.

- Be sure you understand instructions about your care, medication, and tests to maximize their effectiveness.
- Choose outpatient care or one-day surgery when your doctor says inpatient care isn't really necessary.

- Cut your own health risks. Six personal health factors — tobacco use, alcohol abuse, injury, high blood pressure, overeating, and inadequate care — are linked to two out of three deaths and one in three hospital stays.

Our health care system is a precious national resource — one that's well worth conserving. Save the whales, save the trees, certainly. But let's make sure we can save the people, too.

Cards of Thanks

Perhaps you sent a lovely card, or sat quietly in a chair. Perhaps you sent beautiful flowers, if so, we saw them there. Perhaps you sent or spoke kind words, as any friend could say. Perhaps you were not there at all, just thought of us that day. Whatever you did to console the heart, we thank you so much whatever the part.

The Desert Storm Ebbs

By Shirley D. Schmoock

America is a land of certainty and anticipation. Wild birds, other critters, even our pets have expectations that we regularly meet. Each day at 7 a.m. my three cats go outside, at 7:05 the birds gather around the feeder for their ration of seeds, and as I get the newspaper from the box at 7:10, my husband pours our first cup of coffee. Very little to disturb any of us every day, any day.

The robins hop around the yard and ducks cruise our portion of the river two by two. We anticipate spring, as the crocuses come up and the tulips are not far behind. We surely can take a lot for granted in America.

Most of us are still full of Easter dinner and full of heart from visiting with friends and family. We can easily anticipate gaining a pound or so from the feasting, but we do not anticipate going hungry or boiling our drinking water sucked from some brackish pool. I anticipate fresh water from my tap and loaded grocery shelves. No, I have never anticipated empty stores, nor am I able to even imagine shopping in the black market; or, does a person shop on the black market.

Our daily lives, so full of anticipating absolutely everything for ourselves, are simply remarkable when compared to the remainder of the countries in the world. All manner of horror stories come at us each day on the television or in the newspapers, but they have very little impact upon our own ability to anticipate for the care and keeping of ourselves. We do not anticipate any difficulty in washing our clothing; we put them in a machine and turn on a variety of switches. Would any of us gladly anticipate going to a nearby stream to find a suitable rock on which to pound our laundry clean? I think not.

On Easter Sunday we took it for granted that our oven would work because the electricity was on; there is little or no electricity in Iraq. We took it for granted that our dishwasher would work after dinner because our well is full of clean wonderful water; there is little or no potable water in Iraq. We took it for granted that our family and friends would enjoy having dinner with us because the food was hot, fresh, and there was more than enough for everyone; there is little or no food, fresh or otherwise, in Iraq for purchase or even for stealing.

My newly baptized daughter, the one getting bored with having no SCUDs to bust in Israel, is apparently getting ready and anxious to return to her station in Germany. She is probably correct in her anticipation of this event; an American military officer believes they have every right to have expectations materialize. We even write songs about "Anticipation."

But does being an American allow us to take everything for granted? Does being an American guarantee that everything we anticipate will occur? Are we such a land of plenty that we forget others while in pursuit of more for ourselves? Is anticipation truly an American right?

When millions of households gave thanks at their dinner table on Easter, did they give thanks for what they had or for what they wished for others? I anticipate you already know the answer to this question.

All Outdoors

By Scott Rasmusson

Looking for something to do this spring? If so, read on. If you like getting up at 3 a.m., driving for hours, walking over hill and dale, wading in icy cold rivers that make the river Styx seem like a leaky faucet by comparison, then I've got the sport for you, and it's called steelheading. This is the time of year when these big rainbow trout get the spawning urge and return to their birth place.

It is an amazing sight to see a half dozen ten to 12 pound fish on a redd in 12 inches of water. These fish are very territorial now, chasing anything that enters their redd. This same instinct is what can make steelhead easy to catch if done right.

The first rule for steelheading is do not spook the fish. Spooked fish are ten times harder to catch than one's that aren't. Try to stay down stream from the fish and cast your offering upstream so that it will drift through the redd. If you keep at it, sooner or later, one of them will hit your bait and rip the rod out of your hands.

Some equipment that you will need include: a good pair of insulated waders that don't leak, a good medium spinning rod of about eight feet or a seven to nine weight fly rod, a rain jacket and last but not least a change of clothes just in case you go where no man has gone before. You will want to use line in the four to twelve pound test. For you fly-fishing people, you can use an intermediate or sink tip fly line. Or you can use the light line technique.

For something to tie at the end of your line. Some of the flies used include: black stoneflies, wolly buggers, glo bugs, mickey fins, caddis larva, and Clark Lynn nymph (unfortunately known by its generic name, spring wiggler).

Some other baits and lures include: spawn bags, hex nymphs, spinners, plugs and spoons. These are all effective baits, some days one bait will work better than another, its all trial and error.

If you do get into a lot of fish, don't be a hog. Limit your catch, not catch your limit. Take only a fish or two (where legal) and release all the females you catch. By doing this, you will help ensure the future survival of this magnificent fish.

Reminder: As of April 1st your 1990 fishing license expired, so you better get out there and buy your new 1991 license.

Verse or Worse

By Joe Murphy

Gone Fishing

Some folks hurry around each day
Some folks look at things a different way
But if it's pure enjoyment you're wishing
Just hang a sign on your door saying "Gone Fishing"
With fancy fishing rod or old cane pole
Go down and spend some time at the fishing hole
Put a nice fat juicy worm upon your hook
Cast it out in the water and relax with a good book
You might even take along a beer or two
To make sure thirst don't bother you
Just take it easy and laze away
In the warmth of a fine springtime day
You can even attach a little bell to the end of your pole
And take a nice nap there at the fishing hole
If the bell starts ringing and you wake up in time
There might be a nice fat trout on the end of the line
But even if the fish don't bite
You still have a nice day, so that's all right
Don't worry about it, for it don't matter
You can always stop at the store and buy fish for the platter
For fishing and catching fish are two different things
It's the fishing that enjoyment brings
If you really go to catch fish it's a lot of work
When I go fishing it's because I want to shirk
Just to laze away a nice warm afternoon
And maybe hum an old time tune
For God don't count against a man's life
Those hours spent so free of strife
So maybe on some nice warm spring day
You can tell a little white lie and slip away
And spend it the way our life should be
In peace, contentment and tranquility
If it's to escape from the rat race you've been wishing Why not hang that sign that says, "Gone Fishing"

Doodles From The Tall Timber

By Wendell Hoover Hartwick Pines Interpreter

Thanks to a bunch of blacksmiths from around northern Michigan, the rims are now on the wheels we are in the process of building and which are nearing completion. The outer circumference of the wheels turned out to be thirty feet and five inches, while the inside circumference of the rim, when we had them ready, was thirty feet and four inches.

The smiths hammered out a few imperfections in the rim, set one of them on bricks and built a fire around the entire length of the rim. Before heating, the rim had a bell like sound when struck with a hammer, but when it was hot enough it no longer rang when struck. Four men with what they call rim lifters, picked the rim out of the fire, carried it to the wheel and literally set it in place. With water to cool and hammer blows to "set" the tire as it contracted into place, one wheel was completed.

Fifteen minutes later the other rim was hot enough and the process repeated. We are now in the process of finishing assembly of the wheels. By week's end, we hope to have the tongue made, thanks to Roger Barber who located a very suitable piece of wood from which to make it.

The Bible Speaks

From The
Calvary Baptist Church

War/Victory/Morality

How should American soldiers, their families, and their friends feel about the victory over Iraq? Was our involvement in the war morally right, wrong, or neutral? Orthodox Jewish and Christian theologians have historically believed in the possibility of righteous and just wars. The God of the Bible teaches us there is a time for both war and peace. Polls indicate that approximately nine out of ten Americans supported our involvement in the war with Iraq.

Guilt and blame for war is deserved by evil leaders like Saddam Hussein who practice wickedness and evil. Allied forces were surely the instruments of God's righteousness and justice to bring peace through victory over the forces of evil. Some of God's greatest leaders in the Bible were military heroes, "Who through faith subdued kingdoms, wrought righteousness, obtained promises, stopped the mouths of lions. Quenched the violence of fire, escaped the edge of the sword, out of weakness were made strong, waxed valiant in fight, turned to flight the armies of the aliens." (Heb. 11:33, 34).

How can those opposing the war as the "moral conscience" of America make such claims on moral grounds? They oppose the Bible, historical orthodoxy, and the clear consensus of the American people. What is their authority?

At least 25% of the soldiers returning from combat will have psychological problems dealing with stress and violence. Has the soldier who has listened to teachers, preachers, and politicians teaching him that all war is evil and wrong, been given a warped moral conscience? Will this "guilty conscience" cause him untold mental and physical problems which develop as a result of his combat experience? Has he been robbed by protestors of the personal satisfaction of a job well done? Has he been robbed of respect and honor as a good soldier? Has he been robbed of the joy of peace through victory?

How do pacifists who promote and justify abortion, suicide, and ethanasia which kill millions of innocent, friendly Americans, then brand and condemn as murder American military action against tyranny, violence, and injustice of America's foreign enemies? Why do young conscientious objectors now face public ridicule and/or punishment while the teachers, preachers, and politicians who influenced them are still honored and respected as leaders in society?

We care about the spiritual, mental, emotional, and physical welfare of American soldiers. We thank and praise God for His mercy and grace in granting us peace through military victory. Praise God for Blessing America!!!

With Open Arms

"Hello, my child. I see you each day as you walk past my house. At times, your pace slows as if you might decide to stop and come in."

I hope that one day soon you will decide to visit me. My house is a quiet and peaceful haven. It is warm and inviting here. Stained glass windows are lit with the sun by day and by lamp-light at night.

Many of my children visit my house each Sabbath. The singing of hymns, messages of inspiration and guidance, and prayers of praise and thanksgiving fill the air with hope and joy. I shall be waiting and watching for you, my child.

Accept our Father's invitation this week. God's doors, and His arms, are always open wide with love for us, His children.

"Come to Me, all who are weary and heavy-laden, and I will give you rest." Matt. 11:28

ORDER FOR SERVICE OF PROCESS
UNDER MCR 2.106At a session of said Court held in the Courthouse in the City of Grayling, in said County and State, on the 6 day of March, 1991
PRESENT: HONORABLE ALTON T. DAVIS, Circuit Judge

On February 25, 1991, an action was filed by Plaintiffs ROBERT L. BRADY and JANICE E. BRADY, against several named Defendants including Defendants Barbara J. Moriarty, Nancy A. Cornell, Charles T. Evans and Ruth M. Evans, husband and wife, and all unknown and undetermined heirs, assigns, devisees and legatees of the above-named Defendants, and all unknown and undetermined heirs, assigns, devisees and legatees of Clyde R. Borchers, Mary Gretchen Borchers, Willard M. Cornell and Beatrice Cornell, and any unknown persons, claiming through such heirs, assigns, devisees or legatees, and all unknown and undetermined persons claiming title to the property described in the Complaint to Quiet Title. The property which Plaintiffs are seeking to quiet title to in their Complaint, is located in the Township of Grayling, County of Crawford, State of Michigan, more fully described as follows:

Commencing 493 feet South of the Northeast corner of Government Lot 2, thence West 100 feet; thence South 156 feet; thence East 100 feet; thence North 156 feet to the point of beginning. Formerly known as Lots 22, 23, 24, and 25, of Block Four of the Third Addition to Portage Lake Park, being a part of the Southwest quarter of the Northeast quarter, Government Lot 2, Section 8, T26N, R4W, hereinafter referred to as the "subject property."

Upon consideration of the Verified Motion of Plaintiffs, attesting to the fact that Defendants Barbara J. Moriarty, Nancy A. Cornell, Charles T. Evans and Ruth M. Evans, husband and wife, and all unknown and undetermined heirs, assigns, devisees and legatees of the above-named Defendants, and all unknown and undetermined heirs, assigns, devisees and legatees of Clyde R. Borchers, Mary Gretchen Borchers, Willard M. Cornell and Beatrice Cornell, and any unknown persons, claiming through such heirs, assigns, devisees or legatees, and all unknown and undetermined persons claiming title to the property described in this Complaint (the "Defendants") cannot be personally served with a Summons and a copy of the Complaint because their present whereabouts are unknown, and that publication of notice of this action in a newspaper of general circulation is likely to give notice to said Defendants and all persons claiming title to the property described in this Complaint, and it appearing to this Court that Plaintiffs, after diligent inquiry, are unable to determine the whereabouts of the Defendants either within or without the State of Michigan, and it further appearing that publication is the best means available to apprise Defendants of the pendency of this action.

IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that Defendants Barbara J. Moriarty, Nancy A. Cornell, Charles T. Evans and Ruth M. Evans, husband and wife, and all unknown and undetermined heirs, assigns, devisees or legatees of the above-named Defendants, and all unknown and undetermined heirs, assigns, devisees and legatees of Clyde R. Borchers, Mary Gretchen Borchers, Willard M. Cornell and Beatrice Cornell, and any unknown persons, claiming through such heirs, assigns, devisees or legatees, and all unknown and undetermined persons claiming title to the property described in this Complaint, shall, on or before the 19th day of April, 1991, file an Answer with this Court at 200 Michigan Avenue, Grayling, Michigan, 49738, and serve a copy of their Answer on James A. Christopherson, attorney for Plaintiffs, at his business address: 900 E. Front Street, Suite 200, Post Office Box 5115, Traverse City, Michigan, 49685-5115, or take such other action as may be permitted by law. Failure to comply with this Order may result in a judgment by default against Defendants Barbara J. Moriarty, Nancy A. Cornell, Charles T. Evans and Ruth M. Evans, husband and wife, and all unknown and undetermined heirs, assigns, devisees and legatees of the above-named Defendants, and all unknown and undetermined heirs, assigns, devisees and legatees of Clyde R. Borchers, Mary Gretchen Borchers, Willard M. Cornell and Beatrice Cornell, and any unknown persons, claiming through such heirs, assigns, devisees or legatees, and all unknown and undetermined persons claiming title to the property described in this Complaint, and for further relief demanded in the Complaint filed in this cause.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that a copy of this Order be published once each week for three consecutive weeks in the Crawford County Avalanche, a Crawford County newspaper of general circulation, hereby designated as most likely to give notice to the Defendants. Publication shall occur within the County of Crawford, State of Michigan.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that a copy of this Order shall be posted on the subject property. (ATD 3/6/91)
IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the first publication of this Order be made within thirty (30) days from the date of entry of this Order.
IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that mailing of a copy of this Order be dispensed with because Plaintiffs cannot, with reasonable diligence, determine a place where Defendants Barbara J. Moriarty, Nancy A. Cornell, Charles T. Evans and Ruth M. Evans, husband and wife, and all unknown and undetermined heirs, assigns, devisees and legatees of the above-named Defendants, and all unknown and undeterminedheirs, assigns, devisees and legatees of Clyde R. Borchers, Mary Gretchen Borchers, Willard M. Cornell and Beatrice Cornell, and any unknown persons, claiming through such heirs, assigns, devisees or legatees, and all unknown and undetermined persons claiming title to the property described in this Complaint, would probably receive matter transmitted by mail.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF

who passed away one year ago today.
God knew that you were suffering, that the hills were hard to climb, so He gently closed your eyelids and whispered "Peace be thine." In tears we watched you sinking, we watched you fade away.
Our hearts were nearly broken, you fought so hard to stay. But when we saw you sleeping, so peaceful - free from pain, we could not wish you back to suffer that again. It broke our hearts to lose you, but you did not go alone, for part of us went with you, the day God called you home. We will love you and miss you always.

17 Band Members Earn Top Marks At State Solo/Emsemble

Grayling High School band members earned 171 (superior) and three 11 (the next highest) ratings at the M.S.B.O.A. state solo/ensemble competition on March 23 at St. Ignace.

Earning 1s were the following soloists: sophomore Gretchen Dice, piano (proficiency I); junior Kendra Palmer, clarinet (proficiency I); freshman Melissa Wakeley trumpet; sophomore Yolanda Rosi, piano (proficiency I); sophomore Sean Mirate (tenor saxophone (proficiency I); junior Chad Ormsbee, tuba (proficiency I); freshman Melanie Ross, flute; junior Adam Anger, piano (proficiency I); Adam Anger, trumpet (proficiency II); junior Rachel Paulson, bassoon (proficiency I); Yolanda Rosi, trumpet (proficiency I); Gretchen Dice, oboe (proficiency I); junior Jordan Stancil, piano (proficiency II); and Sean Mirate (piano (proficiency I).

The following ensembles also earned 1 ratings: senior Dana Mirate, sophomore Christa Northrop, junior Shane Lovely, sophomore Heather Millikin and freshman Katey DeVries, percussion quintet; Dana Mirate and Shane Lovely, snare/bass drum duet; and Sean Mirate and Jordan Stancil, piano duet.

Receiving 11 ratings were: junior Kristie Lamie, flute solo (proficiency I); Adam Anger, Yolanda Rosi, Melissa Wakeley and junior Chris Halstead, trumpet quartet; and Chad Ormsbee, senior David Teddy and senior Janie Petric, trombone trio.

Soloists at the freshman level are required to play only their solos. Then at the sophomore level they enter proficiency I, in which they must also perform five of nine rehearsed scales and perform sight reading. Pianists must also play a fugue or invention. Proficiency II, the level at which juniors perform, requires soloists to practice nine more scales and play a more difficult piece of sight reading. Proficiency III, for seniors, adds nine new scales and even more difficult sight reading.

Scales and sight reading count 25 points apiece, and the solo counts 50. Performers must earn at least 85 of 100 possible points to receive a 1 rating at the state level.

"What a super day," said GHS band director Dennis Ormsbee. "That's the most events I've ever taken to state."

"Ideally you don't compete against anyone. But the competency level and the expectations of the adjudicators goes up because everyone there got a 1 at the district festival. I tell kids if they play the same way at state as they did at district for a 1, they will get a 111.

Evidently the GHS band members heeded their director's message and sharpened their performances, as it was a very successful day for GHS musicians.

Crawford County Fair Hosts Demolition Derby

On Saturday, July 20th, the fairgrounds will come alive with the crashing thunder and breathtaking smashing of cars when the Crawford County Fair hosts the USA Demolition Derby. The pits will open at 4 p.m. and the action will begin at 8 pm.

The Demolition Derby expects cars to be entered from Grayling and the surrounding areas. The entry fee is $20 with an expected purse of $1,000.

Only one car per driver will be allowed during the entire event, which features heats and a final feature heat. Although to most of us, these cars look like junkers, they do have some modifications that use a minimal amount of money and a lot of hours to prepare. Wheel wells are cut out to keep tires from being sliced by jagged fenders. All glass must be removed along with all the trim and moldings. The stock tank is removed for safety. Holes are cut in the hood to provide easier access to hot oil and transmission fluid fires caused by red hot engines.

The hood is wired down and motors chained down to keep it from falling out when the motor mounts break. Larger tires are used to provide better traction.

Because the speeds are not excessive, very few injuries occur during the derby. But drivers do remember the race the next morning with a few stiff muscles.

The first time driver is almost sure to get hooked, but almost always his car gets the tow truck ride to the junkyard.

Admission will be $5 for adults and $2.50 for children. For more information and entry forms, see John Naour at Cornell Real Estate or call him at 517/348-6481.

AIDS Curriculum Presented To Student's Parents

The last thing you need now is a problem with your homeowners insurance.

Home, sweet home. Sometime it's difficult to keep it that way.

And the problem with homeowner's insurance is you never know how good it is until the roof caves in. Then it can be too late.

A Homeowners policy from Auto-Owners offers you replacement cost coverage on your home and personal property. Some homes qualify for optional Guaranteed Home Replacement cost coverage.

And the great news is... this one encompassing policy may cost you less than the coverage you have now because Auto-Owners offers several discounts and rating advantages.

There's no place like Auto-Owners when it comes to Homeowner's protection. Just ask your "no problem" agent!
